LAGRANGE COLLEGE
Lagrange, Georgia

D E D I C A T I O N

To the students on the "hill", the fountain is a symbol of the people of LaGrange. In its tumbling water, we see their overflowing affection; in its bubbles, their warmth, vitality, and good humor; in its upward surge, their ambition for us; in its varied displays, the welcome into their churches, homes, civic organizations, businesses, and hearts; and in its steadfastness, their loyalty to us. It is to these wonderful people and to the City of LaGrange itself that we proudly and affectionately dedicate

THE 1953 QUADRANGLE

The William N. Banks library was named by the Board of Trustees for the donor. It was his wish to give it a less personal name. Modesty is one of his character traits. But friends and associates draw inspiration from the name over the door of the building because of the virtues and qualities of this great Christian gentleman.

PRESIDENT WAIGHTS G. HENRY

A MESSAGE TO THE SENIORS

Seniors of the class of 1953, we congratulate you upon completion of your liberal arts course of studies. The emphasis of this issue of "The Quadrangle" upon community life should serve as a perpetual reminder that your work is not finished.

In a recent address Mr. George S. Johnson, chairman of the city Board of Education, referred to the principles involved in the account of Jesus and the Rich Young Ruler and stated that after all material success is achieved, we are still faced with the question, "What lack I yet?" There is much yet to be done.

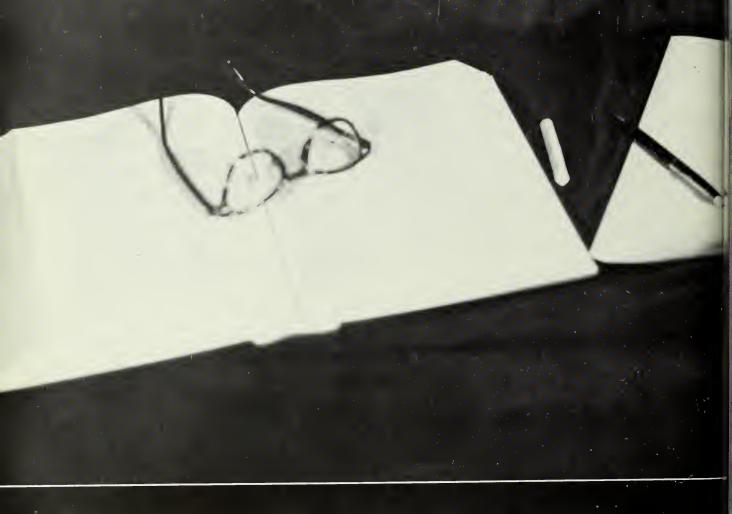

As long as you live you will be faced with your responsibilities to the community in which you live, though oceans will stand between you and some of your classmates. If LaGrange College has meant all it should have to you, the stamp of its spirit will be upon you. You will be a citizen ready to offer leadership in church, state, and culture because you have been taught how to serve and have been given opportunity to do so.

As we meet again in your community from time to time, we shall have occasion to point with pride to you as a former LaGrange student. We have confidence that we can depend on you. LaGrange College's seal of approval is upon you.

Sincerely,

Waights G. Tkerry , Jo.

ADMINISTRATION

The guiding spirit of any school is found in its administration and faculty. We are fortunate indeed to have on our campus some of the finest scholastic spirits. Their enthusiastic approach to learning and their devotion to the teaching profession will remain a constant inspiration to the students who have studied under their direction.

STUDENT BODY

The four classes represent the interaction of different groups toward the same goal—the achievement of the worthwhile in life. Through the class activities we learn to appreciate and respect other people. We learn to discipline self in order to promote the welfare of the group. The lessons learned through this cooperation are no less important and vital than those learned through study.

Autographs

On our campus can be found many varied organizations, representing almost every interest of the students. Each student has ample opportunity to become a member of several clubs. Perhaps the organizations provide the best link between the college and the townspeople, who observe our accomplishments through our stage productions, musical programs, and religious activities.

THE QUADRANGLE MYSTERY

We were walking one day upon the L. C. campus when we saw two ordinary looking girls strolling along together. They were ordinary looking at first; however, one of them soon began to tear at her hair and scream at the other. "Money! Money!" she cried.

Her companion, who was already half bald-headed, seemed perfectly unaware of the disturbance but merely meandered along mumbling, "Forty-one pages gone. How many ads?" At intervals she laughed insanely.

We were trying to solve the mystery when all at once a strange girl with a camera in her hand leaped out from behind a tree and started to snap our picture. Just as she placed her finger on the shutter, a down-pour of rain came crashing to the ground. We hurried toward shelter, but gazing back we saw the figure of the poor girl tossing about on the ground, tearing at the earth in agonizing gestures. Completely baffled, we followed the first two girls into Hawkes Building. Up the steps they went and into room 203, locking the door behind them. With the aid of a step ladder we were able to see through the transom, and there by the light of a 50-watt bulb, we saw tables, chairs, stacks and stacks of papers, envelopes, pictures all over the floor, a badly worn typewriter, and two small windows with padlocks on them. Then the mystery was cleared up. The two strange girls were the editor and the business manager of the 1953 Quadrangle, and the girl with the camera—why, of course, the photographic editor. We shook our heads sympathetically as we looked around the cluttered room again, and then we quietly left the building because we understood.

The Quadrangle staff wishes to express its thanks to all those people who have been helpful, directly or indirectly, in the publishing of the 1953 Quadrangle: to Miss Kate Howard Cross, the adviser, who was always willing and glad to help with the proof-reading; to "Fat" Johnson, the annual photographer, who didn't even let rain stop him from completing the pictures; to Mr. Johnny Long, who was there with his much needed assistance; and to Dr. Waights Henry, who furnished ever present encouragement and inspiration.

The annual staff has, in reality, enjoyed doing its part toward helping to preserve a few of the highlights and happy moments of our years at L. C. It is furthermore the wish of the staff that this annual may serve its purpose to keep those years alive and vivid in the minds of all the students of LaGrange College.

The Young Women's Christian Association is a religious organization of which every woman student on the "Hill" is a member. We have a cabinet composed of seventeen members from the student body and one faculty adviser.

Through the "Y," we try to enrich the spiritual lives of the students on the campus. Each night we have vespers after supper and meditations from 10:15 to 10:30 in the Little Chapel.

We have adopted a little French girl, Nellie, whom we support. Also we contribute yearly to the World Student Service Fund and CARE. Through these activities, every student is made aware of the great need in the world.

THE SCROLL

The Scroll is the literary magazine of the college. Students submit short stories, essays, poems, and reviews, the best of which are chosen for publication.

At the end of each year several students, never more than four in number, are selected to be on the Scroll of Fame. Chosen for their outstanding contributions, these students are honored by having their pictures framed and hung in the English room.

GREEK LETTER

SOCIETIES

The Greek letter societies bind together those people who have similar tastes and ideals. These societies are an important element of the college student's social life, fostering strong feelings of loyalty on the part of the members. Although individuality of the group is stressed, the societies work toward the common goal of fellowship and fun.

SUPERLATIVES

Even among the constellations of heaven, there are some stars which shine brighter than others; so it is with any large group of people. Every college includes some whose achievements, traits of character, or talents have brought them to the attention of their fellow students for special notice. These students are designated as superlatives.

TO OUR ADVERTISERS

To you, our advertisers, the QUADRANGLE staff says a sincere "Thank you." We hope that you will find this medium of advertising worthwhile and that every ad will bring returns. However, we know that the greatest value lies in the maintenance of a spirit of cooperation between the students of LaGrange Collge and the advertisers who supply students' needs.

We realize that without your help this publication would not have been possible. We salute you, not only as advertisers, but as loyal friends of the college.

THE

DUNSON MILLS

LaGrange, Georgia

MANY YEARS AGO LaGrange was named by one of her first citizens "The City of Elms and Roses"; since that time she has also become the CITY OF COTTON MILLS; and her residents may justly feel a pride in either name.

THE DUNSON MILLS lie on the eastern edge of the city, between the Atlanta and West Point Railroad and the Atlanta Highway, Route 14. Its buildings and grounds are among the most attractive in the South today. The main building and offices are surrounded by a wide expanse of velvety lawns, green the year round, and approximately planted with flowering and evergreen shrubs. The mill building is of red brick with white trim, and has a base planting of shrubbery. The tenement village has some three hundred houses of three- and four-room types, at all times kept freshly painted white, with green trim. Every home is provided with electric lights and running water and has ample room surrounding it for flowers and vegetable gardens, chickens, and a cow if desired. The City of LaGrange now operates in our village a most modern and commodious Grammar School Building for the children in our section. The school is equipped with a splendid kitchen and cafeteria, and has a beautiful auditorium. The company operates at its own expense a well-equipped kindergarten for the small children. The company also furnishes a two-story brick building for use as a meeting place for clubs, lodges, and community gatherings.

A full-time graduate nurse is regularly employed by the company for the welfare of its employees and their families, and group life insurance at a very low rate is provided for all those who wish it.

The company a few years ago built two modern brick churches, one of Old English and one of Colonial design, and besides furnishing light, heat and janitor service for the congregations using the building, also contributes substantially to the support of the resident pastor.

The Dunson Mills extend greetings and good wishes not only to the LaGrange College Seniors of 1952 but to all girls on the hill.
